Reviews reports, contractual documents and correspondence prepared by subordinate staff for quality, appropriateness of recommendations and conclusions, and adherence to department and City policies; may review more complex reports, contracts and correspondence for technical accuracy and content; may personally prepare reports on the most sensitive or controversial matters or on matters involving policy issues;
Coordinates division activities and work programs with those of other divisions or other City departments involved in similar or related functions and programs; maintains liaison with Mayor's Office, City Council, other City departments, other public and private agencies and officials and community representatives in the planning and management of grant-funded community development programs; meets with high level City management, representatives of funding or compliance agencies and community organizations to discuss a variety of difficult or complex problems related to grant-funded programs; appears before the City Council and its committees, community organizations and at public meetings and hearings to present and discuss department recommendations or actions on a variety of issues related to the planning, implementation or performance of grant-funded programs;

Recommends appropriate level of staffing and equipment for division's annual budget request; recommends changes in the organizational structure of the division to improve efficiency or economy; reviews recommendations to select, promote, reassign or discipline subordinate employees;

May act as division head in the latter's absence; and may occasionally be assigned other duties for training purposes or to meet technological changes or emergencies.

Qualifications: A good knowledge of the theory, principles and practices of community development and employment or training programs; a good knowledge of laws and regulations relating to grant-funded community development and employment or training programs; a good knowledge of grant application and administration procedures; a good knowledge of the major principles and practices of planning, implementing, administering, monitoring, evaluating and preparing contracts for community development and employment or training programs; a good knowledge of City, state and federal practices and procedures for organization, budgeting and financial administration related to grant-funded programs; a good knowledge of City budgetary, administrative, personnel and legislative rules and procedures; a good knowledge of the laws and regulations related to equal employment opportunity and affirmative action; a good knowledge of the principles and practices of supervision; a good knowledge of memoranda of understanding as they relate to subordinate personnel; a working knowledge of the organization and activities of public and private agencies and community organizations interested in community problems and activities; the ability to plan, organize and direct the work of professional employees engaged in planning and implementing grant programs in the areas of employment, training, housing, senior citizens' services and community development; the ability to develop effective plans to measure the success of such programs; the ability to formulate policies and procedures to ensure compliance with federal, state and local regulations and guidelines; the ability to analyze complex reports, procedures or problems, identify relevant issues and formulate reasonable conclusions or effective solutions;
the ability to write clear, concise and persuasive reports involving the summary and analysis of information and the justification of recommendations or findings; the ability to speak before groups and direct meetings for the purpose of providing information or persuading persons; the ability to represent department management before the City Council and its committees on matters related to grant-funded programs; the ability to direct the training and evaluation of subordinate personnel; the ability to deal tactfully and effectively with individuals from various socioeconomic levels, representatives of governmental and community organizations and City officials.

Appointment to this class is subject to a one-year probationary period under provisions of Section 109 of The City Charter.
