Summary of Duties: Performs professional landscape architectural work in the design and preparation of plans, sketches, and drawings for the development and rehabilitation of park, playground, and recreational areas, public buildings, malls, parking lots, public works facilities; and in laying out landscape plans for traffic islands, parkways, drainage and erosion control projects; reviews the work of other private and public agencies; prepares construction specifications; inspects construction sites; prepares construction change orders; selects and approves plant materials; and does related work.

Distinguishing Features: Employees in the Landscape Architectural series are concerned with plans for landscape, grounds, and site development in recreation, parks, or public works facilities.

The Landscape Architect does responsible professional work and exercises considerable independent judgment and discretion in supervising groups preparing landscape architectural and architectural plans for park and recreation areas, traffic islands, parkways, street improvement projects and in coordinating this work with engineering and inspection work on assigned projects. An employee of this class receives assignments in general terms, which outline the type of project, location, and desired general characteristics. A Landscape Architect is both administratively and technically responsible for the soundness of landscape plans prepared. However, the completed work is reviewed for adherence to objectives and policies defined in the assignment. An employee of this class establishes work procedures, personally supervises the preparation of difficult designs, and delegates less responsible work to subordinates.
