4. ANALYTICAL ABILITY – Identifies, obtains, and evaluates relevant information to establish relationships or patterns, cite causes, and reach logical conclusions.

Level of Competency Required by Job:

Level 1: Recognize similarities/differences in current situation to those previously encountered and is guided accordingly. Apply existing policies correctly. Ask pertinent questions or otherwise seek additional information to formulate appropriate response.

Level 2: Consider multiple, varied factors when evaluating a situation or issue. Seek additional information to provide further insight. Reach conclusions that logically follow from the information obtained.

Level 3: Consider a multitude of diverse factors, their interrelationships, the perspectives of others, alternative courses of action and their likely ramifications when evaluating information to reach a conclusion.

Examples of Behavioral Indicators:

- Obtains the necessary amount of relevant information.
- Recognizes the impact of each type of information on conclusions.
- Evaluates the quality/source of information when considering it.
- States the shortcomings of the information and, therefore, the analysis.

Performance Levels:

Satisfactory

Recognizes available relevant information, seeks additional information to consider, and reaches a conclusion. Provides sound, convincing justification for conclusions, citing relevant data and facts.

Superior

Uses a great deal of existing and obtained information and data to develop and evaluate alternatives and arrive at a final conclusion. Provides compelling arguments in support of conclusions.

6. ATTENTION TO DETAIL – Extremely careful in addressing all aspects of each work assignment in order to produce “completed staff work” and/or avoid any negative outcomes.

Level of Competency Required by Job:

Level 1: Ensure all aspects of work assignment are completed as directed.

Level 2: Verify that each aspect of work assignment is properly completed; make logical inference regarding additional activities that may need to be performed to produce “completed staff work.”

Level 3: Include evaluation of final work/work product in its accomplishment; make adjustments as possible to improve.

Examples of Behavioral Indicators:

- Carefully checks all aspects of work for completion and accuracy before submitting.
- Identifies errors (for example, typo’s, computations, measurements, application of laws/rules/policies) and corrects them prior to submitting.
- Cross-checks work against available resources.
- Sets up a means of checks and balances to ensure work accuracy.
- Considers changes in final work product to ensure usability by recipient.
- Completes all revisions upon request.

Performance Levels:

Satisfactory

Ensures that each task accomplished represents “completed staff work.” No remaining details/ inconsistencies for others to address.

Superior

All aspects of each task completed are verified to be correct. Identifies any foreseeable consequences of work that may need to be addressed and does so.

12. CONSCIENTIOUSNESS – Dependable, reliable, diligent, and attends to all aspects of assignments (the “details”).

Level of Competency Required by Job:

Level 1: Remain on-task and make every reasonable effort to complete work in time allotted. Note discrepancies and takes action or informs appropriate person when “things don’t seem right” in information or data.

Level 2: Note when own work logically relates to the work of others and coordinate with them and when additional tasks must be performed to complete an assignment and perform/assign them. Recognize when, despite best efforts, work will not be done and notifies supervision.

Level 3: Attend to each area of responsibility, and if all are not being addressed, arrange for transfer or elimination of some of them. Ensure that all aspects of programs/projects are properly addressed to ensure success.

Examples of Behavioral Indicators:

- Seeks all necessary information to do the job well.
- Learns from experience so can recognize when things are not right.
- Maintains a high level of task-related behavior.
- Continues to work diligently in the absence of supervision.
- Fully attends to seemingly minor as well as major aspects of each work assignment.

Performance Levels:

Satisfactory

Fully attends to work at hand; notes details, errors, and discrepancies and follows-up as necessary. Reliably performs and completes work. Punctual; respectful of others’ time.

Superior

Notes relationship of own work to work of others to ensure all aspects are coordinated. Performs additional tasks and otherwise follows-up to ensure thoroughness.

20. JOB KNOWLEDGE – Knows information required to perform a specific job. Includes both widely available courses of study (for example, chemistry, human resources management, graphic arts) and City-specific information (parking regulation and ticketing practices; purchasing procedures; provisions of the City Charter).

Level of Competency Required by Job:

Level 1: Knowledge is concrete, factual, and/or procedural and may be defined by the organization. Situations in which it is applied are quite consistent.

Level 2: Knowledge is substantive and may be defined by an external trade, field, or profession. Situations in which it is applied vary and, as such, require breadth and depth of understanding.

Level 3: Knowledge is abstract, conceptual, and/or complex and may be supported by a well-defined academic discipline or authoritative sources (e.g., laws, ordinances, government guidelines/regulations/codes). Situations in which it is applied may vary greatly or be novel.

Examples of Behavioral Indicators:

- Performs work correctly/avoids technical (job content related) errors.
- Answers technical questions about work accurately.
- Asks few technical questions about the performance of routine work activities.
- Offers advice (“coaching”) to new employees regarding their work.
- Develops training programs for other employees.
- Sought out as a source of information by others.

Performance Levels:

Satisfactory

Sufficient job knowledge to perform work correctly independently. Answers technical questions about work correctly.

Superior

Expertise in technical job information sufficient to serve as a resource to others. May develop training manuals/ programs and/or give internal and/or external presentations related to work.

Job Knowledge Areas

1. Knowledge of the steps of the typical transportation planning process such as defining the problem, establishing goals, collecting and analyzing data, establishing measurement criteria to judge goal attainment, developing alternative solutions, stakeholder outreach, evaluating alternatives, recommending an alternative, and implementing and evaluating its performance, in order to develop feasible and acceptable transportation plans and programs such as Flyaway Services, Downtown Area Short Hop (DASH) transit, and Mobility Hubs.
2. Knowledge of the concepts, principles, and trends in transportation planning, such as travel demand management, travel supply management, jobs and housing balance, and the relationship between land use and transportation systems, sufficient to provide effective, efficient, responsive, and flexible transportation solutions such as car sharing, on-demand transit, and paratransit.
3. Knowledge of transportation data sources such as trip generation studies, origin and destination studies, ridership data, and transportation research board reports, in order to effectively investigate and verify transportation alternatives.
4. Knowledge of the facilities and operations involved in commercial airports, such as airfield and landside access, terminal operations, and passenger and baggage processing, sufficient to improve the efficiency of passenger and vehicle movement at the Los Angeles World Airports (LAWA).
5. Knowledge of the general concepts of transit systems operations, including headways, route and schedule planning, and the implementation of transit services, such as on-demand transit, first-last mile, rider on-boarding, real-time vehicle information, emerging technology, and connectivity, in order to plan, administer, and evaluate transit services.
6. Knowledge of urban design concepts, such as roadway design, road calming, street scape design, and pedestrian enhancements, in order to create safe and efficient mobility options for the public.
7. Knowledge of survey methodologies and principles, such as sampling procedures, developing questions, and formatting, sufficient to design surveys and to review and evaluate surveys designed by peers and consultants.

8. Knowledge of statistical concepts, such as mean, variance, normal distribution, hypothesis testing, and levels of statistical significance, in order to properly analyze and assess the integrity of the data.
9. Knowledge of evaluation techniques, such as capacity analysis, cost/benefit analysis, cost effectiveness analysis, and travel demand forecasting, in order to develop and evaluate transportation plans and alternatives to successfully meet community mobility needs.
10. Knowledge of the major Federal, State, and local transportation agencies roles, such as the Federal Transit Agency, Caltrans, and the Los Angeles Metro, sufficient to comply with the transportation agencies regulations and obtain funding for transportation projects.
11. Knowledge of the roles of the various departments and offices within the Los Angeles city government, such as the Planning Department, City Administrative Office, City Attorney's Office, and the Chief Legislative Analyst's Office, sufficient to enable the successful outcomes of transportation planning goals.
12. Knowledge of the environmental review process related to the National Environmental Protection Act (NEPA) and California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA), in order to properly evaluate the environmental impact(s) of transportation projects on the environment.
13. Knowledge of software related to graphics, graphics information systems (GIS), and statistical analysis, in order to analyze and present to the stakeholders and project managers, and provide suggestions for the creation of transit user mobile applications.

32. RESPONSIVENESS AND FOLLOW-UP – Executes actions as requested or to which a commitment has been made; continues involvement as needed.

Level of Competency Required by Job:

Level 1: Willingly accept job assignments and, upon completion, asks whether any other actions are necessary.

Level 2: Ensure that all job responsibilities are fulfilled within their designated timeframes. Willingly accept, and may volunteer for, additional assignments, but does not overextend. Anticipate and accommodate the need for continued involvement.

Level 3: Ensure that staff and other resources are available (or can be made available) to reasonably allow for completion of work before making a commitment. If not, make adjustments to ensure completion of work or re-establish priorities and communicate to all involved parties. Recognize the probable need for continuation of some staff involvement beyond the designated timeframe to ensure success.

Examples of Behavioral Indicators:

- Willingly accepts assignments and completes assigned work.
- Monitors “completed” work to determine whether additional issues to be addressed have arisen.
- Volunteers for assignments when able to assure their timely completion.
- Carefully considers available staff and resources, and competing priorities, before making commitments to complete additional work.

Performance Levels:

Satisfactory

Completes assigned work. Realistically appraises the likelihood of completing additional work before accepting or volunteering for it. Recognizes the usual need for follow-up once assignments are submitted.

Superior

Completes assigned work in an expeditious manner. Often ready to accept additional work or volunteer for it. Readjusts priorities and/or revises plans to maximize productivity. Diligently monitors the possible need for follow-up.
